agriculture, in addition to plant also provides training, outreach, and capacity building with specific focus on climate policy, technologies and terrestrial and coastal resources and ecosystems from Natural Resource Management (NRM) accounting of forest carbon, conservation of biodiversity, interdisciplinarity approach to sustainable Development Planning Management and Innovation (DPMI) for sustainable management of development institutions, insecurity, social environmental change, with the emphasis of planning in sustainable development and how the areas of tourism and consumption, Healthy and inclusive cities.

Energy, Environment and Climate Change (EECC) program focuses on the role of innovation and planning in sustainable development and low-carbon technologies sustainability, emphasis on Energy, Environment and Climate Change. The program is designed to prepare students to take a leadership role in the development of policy and planning in government and the private sector. The program is designed to prepare students with knowledge, competencies and skills in planning and managing the development of renewable energy development, economic, social, and sustainable planning and management approaches. The program provides a strong foundation in economic, social, and environmental sustainability, and the skills and knowledge needed to develop and implement policies and strategies for sustainable development. The program also provides opportunities for internships and research projects in the field of sustainability.

YOUR INSTITUTE
Since 1959, the Asian Institute of Technology (AIT) in Thailand has been committed to providing high-quality education and research to students and faculty from around the world. AIT is one of the top international universities in the world, and is ranked among the top 20 universities globally for sustainability. AIT is also a member of the U.S. Department of Education's list of pre-approved institutions for U.S. students who wish to study abroad. AIT offers undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral programs in a variety of fields, including engineering, business, management, and sciences.

The School of Environment, Resources and Development (SERD) at AIT offers a range of programs in environmental science, resource management, and development studies. The programs are designed to prepare students for careers in government and the private sector, as well as for further studies in related fields. The programs are taught in English, and are open to students from all over the world. AIT is a member of the AIT Network, a network of institutions in the Asia-Pacific region that are committed to sustainable development and environmental education. AIT is also a partner of the United Nations University, and has a strong international reputation for its research and teaching in the field of sustainable development.

FOOD, AGRICULTURE AND BIORESOURCES

Agri-Business Management (ABM) program provides an interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary approach to food and agriculture. The program is designed to prepare students for careers in government and the private sector, as well as for further studies in related fields. The program is taught in English, and is open to students from all over the world. AIT is a member of the AIT Network, a network of institutions in the Asia-Pacific region that are committed to sustainable development and environmental education. AIT is also a partner of the United Nations University, and has a strong international reputation for its research and teaching in the field of sustainable development.

YOUR DEGREE OPTIONS

Regular Degree Programs: Offered to students who wish to pursue a degree in a specific field. The programs can take 3-4 years to complete, depending on the student's academic background and performance. The degree options include Bachelor of Science (BSc), Master of Science (MSc), and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD).

Professional Masters: Offered to students who wish to pursue a degree in a specific field, but who also want to gain practical experience in the field. The programs can take 2-3 years to complete, depending on the student's academic background and performance. The degree options include Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Science (MSc), and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD).

One Year Master's Degree: Offered to students who wish to pursue a degree in a specific field, but who also want to gain practical experience in the field. The programs can take 1-2 years to complete, depending on the student's academic background and performance. The degree options include Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Science (MSc), and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD).

Your Next Step

1. Evidence of proficiency in English.
2. Copy of degree certificate(s) in English.
3. Copy of transcript(s) in English.
4. Copy of passport(s) in English.
5. AIT application form.

Your Smart Choice

Your personal information will be used to contact you about your application and other related issues. You can unsubscribe at any time. Your information will be kept confidential. By submitting this form, you agree to the terms and conditions of the privacy policy.